

Christian Trades
Christian Entrepreneurs Training Course

Course Title	Course Description	Purpose	Desired Results	Period of Course	Location
Basic Stock Options Trading	The course will familiarize the students with both the basics of pricing and the actual trading of the option and future contracts.	The student must learn to discern the idea pricing of their trade and make the most informed choice in trading options.	The maximum benefit will be obtained from the instructor and students discussing their experiences, when relevant, in the context of the course material.	12 weeks	Home of the president of the organization
Advance Stock Options Trading	The course will familiarize the students with advance methods of pricing and the actual trading of the option and future contracts.	The student must learn to discern the idea pricing of their trade and make the most informed choice in trading options.	The maximum benefit will be obtained from the instructor and students discussing their experiences, when relevant, in the context of the course material.	12 weeks	Home of the president of the organization
Biblical Principles of Investing	The course will familiarize the students with Biblical methods and principles of investing.	The students must be familiar with Biblical methods and principles of investing	The maximum benefit will be obtained from the instructor and students discussing their experiences, when relevant, in the context of the course material.	8 Weeks	Home of the president of the organization
Virtual Stock Exchange (VSE)	Students will build and manage a simulated portfolio throughout the course (starting fourth week of the course). VSE can be utilized via a web browser. To encourage you to put effort into the simulation, we will do the following. The student with the maximum portfolio value on (23th week of the course-by close of trading day) will get the equivalent of a 95 on the Final Exam (thereby likely exempting the student from the Final Exam with an A Grade). Any student who underperforms the S&P 500 by more than 10% (e.g. S&P is up 5% and you are down more than 5%) will have 5 points subtracted from their Final Exam Score (e.g. 75 score on Final Exam is adjusted downward to 70). Conversely, any student who outperforms the S&P 500 by 10% will get 5 points added to their Final Exam score.	The student must to achieve a certain dollar amount set by their instructor on the Virtual Stock Exchange	The maximum benefit will be obtained from the instructor and students discussing their experiences, when relevant, in the context of the course material.	20 weeks	Home of the president of the organization
Basic Stock Trading	This course will familiarize the students with both the basics of pricing and the actual stock trading	The student must learn to discern the idea pricing of their trade and make the most informed choice in trading options.	The maximum benefit will be obtained from the instructor and students discussing their experiences, when relevant, in the context of the course material.	8 weeks	Home of the president of the organization
Biblical Principles of Finance	This course is an holistic approach to the study and implementation of biblical principles as they relate to personal finances. The class meeting will be divided into four sections: memory verse recital, short topical lecture on biblical principles of personal finance, discussion of the week's reading/study material, another short lecture on practical aspects of personal financial management (the "how to" and nuts & bolts). There will be a light application of math during some of the practical lectures so that students can come to a fuller understanding of the material, but there will be no calculations required on the exams.	Students will track their personal expenses for the duration of the class and will create a budget based on their tracking and personal goals.	The maximum benefit will be obtained from the instructor and students discussing their experiences, when relevant, in the context of the course material.	8 Weeks	Home of the president of the organization

Christian Trades
Christian Entrepreneurs Training Course

Course Title	Course Description	Purpose	Desired Results	Period of Course	Location
Risk Management	This course introduces the student to corporate risk management. We survey the current practices corporations use in protecting their assets from random events. You will learn of the tools firms use to measure, estimate, and mitigate a variety of risk exposures, by insurance, hedging, and diversification. Covered risk exposures include interest rate risk, fx risk, credit risk, market risk, liquidity risk and operational risk. In light of current financial markets crisis, the course will focus on risk exposures associated with financial intermediation.	The student learn to discern the minimum & maximum risk exposures to their investment portfolio	The maximum benefit will be obtained from the instructor and students. When the students are able to describe and recognize their potential risk in any given situation, when relevant, in the context of the course material.	4 Weeks	Home of the president of the organization
Psychology Analysis of the Market	Students will analyze the basic and fundamental motives of human behavior. They will recognize the psychological factors which affect market behavior	The student learn to discern the psychological factors and human behaviors that may potentially may affect their investment portfolio	The maximum benefit will be obtained from the instructor and students. When the students are able to describe and recognize psychological factors and human behavioral trends to the market in any given situation, when relevant, in the context of the course material.	8 Weeks	Home of the president of the organization
Financial & Budget Analysis	Provides overview of the fields of security analysis and portfolio management. Introduces the analysis of individual investments with special reference to common stock. Covers nature of financial markets, security pricing models, critiques of techniques of security analysis. Introduces problems of portfolio selection.	The student learn to discern the trends in the financial markets, pricing models, stock analysis relevant to their investment portfolio	The maximum benefit will be obtained from the instructor and students. When the students are able to describe and recognize trends to financial markets in any given situation, when relevant, in the context of the course material.	5 Weeks	Home of the president of the organization
Taxation Rules	This course focuses on building the student's foundational understanding of the underlying framework and basic principles and concepts of federal income tax law. The goal of this course is to provide tax education rather than tax training. The focus is on the principles of federal income taxation common to all entities and individuals with a greater emphasis on the application of those concepts to individual taxpayers.	The student must demonstrate knowledge of the concepts, principles and rules of taxation of individuals and apply the principles of the professional responsibilities in tax practice	The maximum benefit will be obtained from the instructor and students. When the students are able to describe and recognize the concepts, principles and rules of taxation of individuals and apply the principles in any given situation, when relevant, in the context of the course material.	6 Weeks	Home of the president of the organization
Stock Options computer Programing	This course is designed to be a "gentle introduction" to the fundamentals of computer programming. Students will design, write and debug computer programs. No knowledge of programming is assumed.	The student must demonstrate knowledge of different types of stock options software, identify the strengths and weakness of each program	The maximum benefit will be obtained from the instructor and students. When the students are able to describe and recognize the different types of stock options software, identify the strengths and weakness of each program, when relevant, in the context of the course material.	10 Weeks	Home of the president of the organization